Are You a Healthy Beverage Zone?

Help the Bronx win the National Healthiest Communities Challenge!

Here's some sweet news about a county that is rated the least healthy in the state. Thanks to the work of a Bronx-wide campaign – the Healthy Beverage Zone (HBZ) Project – the borough is one of 50 communities nationwide to be recognized as a finalist in the Healthiest Cities & Counties Challenge.

Dr. Vanessa Salcedo, a pediatrician at Union Community Health Center (UCHC), has been a driving force behind this campaign and she is urging BPHC members to join the Healthy Beverage Zone Project and help the Bronx win top recognition and up to $500,000 to support the campaign.

Celebrating Our New Healthcare Workforce

BPHC recently welcomed workers who joined this year in two important DSRIP projects – Community Health Workers with a.i.r. nyc's Asthma Home-Based Self-Management Program and Peer Leaders with Health People's Diabetes Self-Management Program.

We were honored to have Council Member Ritchie Torres (far right) attend to recognize their roles in keeping people in the Bronx healthy!
